Skipping Stone to Present at 2011 Energy & Power Distribution Conference

Schaumburg, Illinois – September 14, 2011 – Skipping Stone announced today that Ross Malme, Skipping Stone Partner, will be conducting the seminar “Smart Grid Building Solutions” at the 5th Annual Energy & Power Distribution Conference in Schaumburg on Wednesday, September 14.

The conference, sponsored by Schneider Electric is aimed at providing insight into new technologies, safety requirements and compliance issues which will help energy industry professionals make their facilities safe, reliable, productive, efficient and green. Mr. Malme’s discussion on “Smart Grid Building Solutions” will cover new technologies and business models allowing for commercial buildings to provide grid-balancing services and will include an overview of the USGBC LEED Demand Response credit.

About Skipping Stone

Skipping Stone is a different kind of energy consulting company. All of our client resources have worked as executives in the energy industry and now choose to consult. Our specialty is collaborating with clients on ideas, strategies and tactics and then providing the array of complementary services required to turn those ideas into successes. From the drawing board to the P&L, we measure every engagement based on our clients’ success metrics.

Skipping Stone has offices in Atlanta, Boston, Houston and Los Angeles.
